COUNTRY ON SOUNDEST BASIS IN YEARS SAYS COMPTROLLER

Deflation Has Caused Prices To Drop To or Near Pre-War Level is Declaration

Labor Must Accept Reduced Wage—Dealers Less Profit

Sees Prices of Iron, Steel And Coal As Unreasonably High

Long Period of Prosperity Is Ahead According to Comptroller.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, February 7.—The country is now in many respects on a sounder basis economically than it has been for years, Comptroller of the Currency John Skelton Williams informed Congress today in what he described as his "seventh and last" annual report.

Deflation, obviously inevitable a year ago, has come, he said, and prices of many basic commodities and raw materials have returned to pre-war levels or below.

"It now remains for the little man," the Comptroller declared, "to adjust his profits to the new prices before the ultimate consumer will receive the benefit of the reduced cost of living."

Labor, however, Mr. Williams said, must soon determine whether a shut-down and idleness is preferred to a lower wage scale which takes into consideration the lower living charges.

Mills and factories cannot afford to operate unless they can turn out commodities at prices the community can afford to pay, he asserted, and it is better for the manufacturer to operate and produce goods at cost, or at a very narrow margin of profit, than to close down entirely.

Participation by labor with capital in the profits, he suggested, as the only principle to restore business.

SEES PROSPERITY

"When conditions abroad become more settled or stabilized," Comptroller Williams declared in a summary of the present outlook, "and when at home much needed adjustments are effected in the costs to the consumer of steel and iron products, which are still quoted at about twice their pre-war prices, and when coal, for which the government itself has paid in recent months as much as four times the pre-war price, and certain other commodities which are now being kept up artificially or as a result of monopolistic control far above the pre-war figures, get back to normal levels, our country, resting on a solid foundation, will be prepared to enter upon a new and, let us hope, long enduring era of prosperity and healthy progress."

FEW BANK FAILURES

During the fiscal year ended June 30, 1920, the Comptroller said, there were 8,157 national banks in operation, the highest number ever reported, and despite the difficulties encountered, they made the best record in immunity from failure in about forty years.

The percentage of the capital of the failed banks to the total capital of all banks, he explained, was about two one-thousandths of one percent, or sixteen times better than the average for the entire fifty-seven years since the inauguration of the system.

MRS. HARDING, SHOPPING IN NEW YORK, CHOOSES INAUGURAL GOWN OF BLUE

Mrs. Warren G. Harding, photographed in her suite at the Ritz-Carlton hotel, where she did her shopping, modistes, tailors, etc., bringing their wares to her.

Mrs. Harding, who, as wife of the president-elect, will become first lady of the land March 4, is now in New York doing her first "White House" shopping. And the simplicity of her inaugural day wardrobe and the refinement shown in her selections have drawn her still nearer to those who are just making her acquaintance. Her inaugural gown already selected, is of "gendarme" blue charmeuse and chiffon, trimmed with stones. Her hat is to be a small tricorn of black malines straw, trimmed with a black and royal blue wing. If the weather is warm she will wear a blue chiffon wrap. For cold weather she has a blue satin one.

BANK RESOURCES

Combined resources of all banks in the country on June 30, 1920, including national, state and federal reserve banks, the Comptroller said, aggregated $59,153,704,000.

Gross earnings of the national banks during the past fiscal year aggregated $1,109,000,000 while their total expenses were $736,000,000, of which $175,000,000 was for salaries and wages and $287,000,000 was for interest on deposit.

National banks in the city of New York showed earnings on capital stock of 37 1/2 percent; Philadelphia 33 1/2 percent; Chicago 24 percent; Boston 23 percent; Cleveland 24 1/2 percent; Minneapolis 21 1/2 percent; St. Louis 17 1/2 percent; Richmond 20 1/2 percent; Dallas 30 percent; Kansas City 17 percent, and San Francisco 18 percent.

Pueblo, Colorado, with 55 percent, reported the largest earnings of any reserve city. Birmingham, Alabama, was next with 33 1/2 percent and Atlanta third with 33 1/2 percent.

Declines Invitation to Appear Before Committee

Insists Witnesses Have Refuted Claims.

(By Associated Press)

Washington, February 7.—Critics of the American Expeditionary Force have been "completely answered in each instance" by competent witnesses, and it seems unnecessary "further to consume the time" of war investigating committees, General Pershing wrote to Representative Flood, Democrat, of Virginia, today, declining an invitation to appear.

While ready to respond to a committee summons, the General said he could "see no reason why I should appear at this time to answer allegations that have already been refuted."

M'GANNON TRIAL OPENS MONDAY FIGHT IS ON

Question Of Women Jurors Is Cause Of Contention

Second Trial For Second Degree Murder

(By Associated Press)

Cleveland, O., February 7.—The second trial of Judge Wm. McGannon, on a charge of second degree murder in connection with the fatal shooting of Harold C. Kagi, on the night of May 7th last, opened this morning before Common Pleas Judge Homer G. Powell.

It is expected several days will be consumed in the selection of a jury. The question of women jurors loomed large before the trial began this morning. County Prosecutor Edward C. Stanton said he would make every effort to secure a jury composed of either all men or all women, because the jury probably will be kept together for a week or more, and the statutes do not provide for a separation of jurors.

W. H. Boyd, chief counsel for McGannon declared that he would not agree to any such suggestion.

Seven Schoolboys and Teacher Killed When Lad Playfully Tosses Can of Explosive To Playmate.

(By Associated Press)

Lawrenceville, Ill., February 7.—Emmet Bunyan, school teacher, and seven of his pupils were killed instantly when a can of nitroglycerine exploded today near the crossroads school, about three miles west of here. Another boy is expected to die.

The explosion occurred at the noon recess, when one of the boys found the can near the school. Not knowing it contained an explosive, he playfully tossed it to a companion and the blast followed.

One wall of the schoolhouse was crumbled and Mr. Bunyan and eight boys were hurled about fifty feet in the air.

Several girls who were on the other side of the schoolhouse at the time were knocked down and stunned by the blast, but not seriously hurt.

Officials of Lawrence County expressed the belief the explosive inadvertently was left where found by workmen in the oil fields near here, as nitro glycerine is used in "shooting" wells. The boys killed ranged in ages from 12 to 16 years.

KANSAS MINERS' CHIEFS HALED BEFORE COURT

(By Associated Press)

Pittsburg, Kansas, February 7.—District Judge A. J. Curran late today issued attachments for the immediate arrest of Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas coal miners, and for all of the members of the district executive board of the union.

The order was made on application of the State Attorney General.

When the miners' president was arraigned before Judge Curran, he admitted he had called the present coal strike.

Vice President Dorchy, brought into court with Howat simply said: "I am guilty." Willard Titus, a board member, also was haled before the Judge. Howat, Dorchy and Titus were then released and ordered to appear in court tomorrow.

The attorney general contended that the strike was in violation of the injunction issued last summer by Judge Curran and that the miners officials were in contempt of court.

Washington, February 7.—Participation by the War department in a series of experiments to determine the value of aircraft against major naval vessels was invited by Secretary Daniels today in a letter to Secretary Baker.

The captured German battleships Ostfriesland probably will be used for the first experiment.

DEMAND CUT IN FREIGHT RATES

Western Cattle Associations Claim Freight Rates Are Excessive

Cannot Sell Cattle For Enough To Pay Freight is Claim

(By Associated Press)

Washington, February 7.—A reduction in freight rates was asked today of the Inter-State Commerce Commission by six of the largest cattle men's associations of the west.

Their spokesmen told the commission that market prices of sheep, cattle and wool had fallen so low that western cattle raisers and farmers were no longer able to sell their products for enough to pay freight rates.

The complaint contended that financial conditions made it impossible to obtain loans to condition cattle for market properly and that growers were compelled to sell for whatever they can get in an "unmarketable condition."

"MECCA" PRODUCER SUES HENRY FORD FOR ALLEGED LIBEL

Morris Gest.

Morris Gest, producer of "Mecca," "Chu Chin Chow" and other spectacles, and son-in-law of David Belasco, has sued Henry Ford for $5,000,000 for alleged libel.

The suit charges that alleged libelous statements were published January 22 in the Dearborn Independent, Henry Ford's weekly, in an article said to have had as its caption "How Jews Capitalized Protest Against Jews." The article, according to the petition, discussed both Gest and the type of stage productions he offers. It termed them "the most salacious spectacles ever shown in America."

Says Gest: "He has cast aspersions on my origin, my honor and my productions, and I will spend the last dollar I have and the last drop of blood to prosecute and punish him."

Ford is reported as saying: "Mr. Gest will be ignored."

OHIO WHEAT CROP VALUE BOOSTED

The saving of improved varieties of seed wheat is expected to enable Ohio farmers to produce a half million dollar larger crop next season.

After years of experimentation, the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station has shown that certain improved strains will produce higher yields than parent varieties.

In order that the most effective distribution of this wheat could be made on Ohio farms, an agreement was reached three years ago between the experiment station and the county agricultural agents, representing the farm bureaus, for the allotment of this seed by the station only on the recommendation of the county agents.

Accordingly in the fall of 1918, between 200 and 300 bushels of Glad-den, Trumbull, Portage and Ohio 127 wheat were distributed in this way. Last fall home grown seed of these varieties had multiplied until this high producing wheat was sown on 75,251 acres. County agricultural agents estimate the increased yield from these varieties in previous years to have been from two to ten bushels greater than from local varieties. If the increased yield only averages three bushels per acre, and wheat brings $2.00 a bushel, the increased production will thus be valued at over $450,000.

THINGS STIRRING FOR NEXT SEASON ON THE DIAMOND

Things have started to stir in baseball circles with the signing up of a manager and players for next season.

The announcement that Frank Doyle of Greenfield is again going to pilot the club will be of interest to the fans. Doyle was named manager during the last few weeks of the 1920 season and was just beginning to get his ideas into practice when schedule closed. It is certain now that Noah Emery, of Hillsboro better known as "Snag," will do the backstopping. It is probable that "Hig Corwin may be in Athletic uniform also.

Carl Noon, who has covered left field season after season is ready to step into his position for 1921.

Tom Suttle will probably be at his old position.

Around these men the Athletic management expects to build a team that will stand up before best independent team of the country.

DO YOU KNOW WHAT IS THE MATTER?

When You Feel Out of Sorts and See Things with a Dull Eye

LOOK TO YOUR BLOOD

Pale Complexions, Languid Feelings, Lowered Vitality, Need More Red Blood. Take Pepto-Mangan.

So, many people spend week after week feeling down and out. They never stop to think that something really is the matter. They satisfy themselves by saying, "Oh, I'm not sick. I'll be all right tomorrow."

And tomorrow comes again and again. Still they feel depressed and languid, scarcely able to get around.

If you don't feel like yourself, you are not yourself. If you are weak and pale, your blood needs strengthening.

You should know about Pepto-Mangan, that famous blood tonic. Physicians recommend it and prescribe it because it contains just the ingredients needed to make red blood.

It renews your energy, puts you where you ought to be. Begin with it today. Get the tablets if they will be more convenient to take than the liquid.

Both have the same medicinal properties. But be sure you get the genuine Pepto-Mangan. Ask for "Gude's" and be sure that the full name, "Gude's Pepto-Mangan" is on the package. Advertisement.

To finance the building, which will be used as a Branch Postoffice, the American Bond & Mortgage Co., has made a first mortgage loan of $1,000,000, issuing bonds in the amount of this mortgage in denominations of $100, $500 and $1000, maturities 1 to 10 years, bearing 7 1/2% interest.

The Law of The Land

The Supreme Court of the United States, according to the news dispatches from Washington, has handed down among its decisions one declaring that under the law of the land Victor Berger, the Wisconsin Socialist, twice expelled from the national House of Representatives, after having been elected from the Milwaukee district, for his unpatriotic acts and words during the war, had been unjustly convicted. The reason, according to announcements, was that because Judge Landis proceeded with the trial, after Berger had filed an affidavit charging Judge Landis with being prejudiced against him, an error was committed on account of which the verdict of guilty against Berger should be set aside.

On the same day the same Court held that Judge Ben Lindsey of Denver was not entitled to an appeal from the order of the United States District Court holding him in contempt and assessing a fine of $500 because Judge Lindsey refused to disclose the communications a child had made to him in confidence.

That's the law of the land as applicable to two cases which have attracted great interest all over the nation.

Doubtless there is an abundance of technicality in the intricate judicial procedure to support both decisions. We must presume that that is true because the highest tribunal has so decreed, but to the layman the decisions appear far off from justice. The goddess must indeed have been blind Monday when she set Berger free and denied Judge Ben Lindsey even standing room in her tribunal.

If that's the law then, as Brimble the beadle stated when informed that he was presumed to control his wife's conduct "the law is an ass."

We have no criticism to make of the Court. It is the duty of courts to enforce and to expound the law as it is written in the books.

Monday's decisions in the two instances mentioned are glaring and startling proof of the need of radical reforms in laws and judicial procedure.

Unless the learned advocates and counselors shake off the shackles of technicality which have bound them for centuries and bring about a closer alliance between law and justice the courts of the land are certain to lose their place as a useful branch of the government.

The Ability to Pay

The problem now confronting the allied nations, in finally fixing the sum which Germany must pay for the havoc she wrought in plunging the world into war, is not how much the guilty nation and the guilty people should pay, but how much can they pay.

The injury which Germany did is beyond measure in money. That being manifestly true the only question then, in fixing the amount of reparation, is the ability of Germany to pay. As soon as the allied nations have determined that fact, from their own honest and calm investigations, uninfluenced by Germany's untrustworthy assertions, then the amount of reparation should be fixed and Germany compelled to pay it, to the very last penny of her ability to pay.

Fifty-five billions of dollars is a staggering debt for Germany to assume, but that debt is not comparable to the loss she inflicted on the other nations and upon humanity by her wrongful acts.

The final determination, however, of the sum Germany is to pay, should be reached soon if the allied nations, especially France and Belgium, most injured by Germany's savage attacks, are to be benefitted. Both those nations need the money Germany must pay. They need it now.

Then too Germany is "marking time" industrially until she knows what the load is going to be. That once determined she will adjust her shoulders to the burden placed upon them and begin to work out her sentence.

Unless Germany can recover financially and industrially she can never pay the indemnity demanded and Germany recovered is again a menace to France.

Of all the nations involved the position of France is the most difficult. She wants—she needs and must have money from Germany and to get that she must consent to a sum which will permit Germany to recover and earn the money to pay and yet France, above all else, feels that she must guard against consenting to conditions which will permit the menace of centuries to arise again from the present humbled Germany.

POETRY FOR TODAY

THE UNBORN SONGS

I was a strolling player, in those years
When all the world was sane, before the war.
And people loved my music, for the notes
Were high and keen and clear, and like the call
Of the birds homing—or, sometimes the tones
Would throb and beat and moan, like life itself,
And they were all my songs—and God!
I was so happy.

Then war came, and I saw it only as High adventure, and a dear, glad service.
The red tumult, and swift murder—all the loathsome Things around me tore the very fibers of My heart—and that I could have borne, until They shot my arm away!
And now this wan, chaotic peace has come,
And I sit huddled here a deeper blotch
Of dark among the graying shadows, while Sweet, unborn songs in search of fingers run
All tingling down my arm to where it stops—
And high clear notes or deep and true, that once
Were mine, like plaintive, far-off Pipes of Pan.
Are always calling.

PROCRASTINATION OF THE SENATE KILLS RESTRICTED IMMIGRATION BILL

Bill Very Popular But Chloroformed in The Committee

Time Wasted in Hearing Arguments of Special Interest

BY MARK SULLIVAN
(Copyright 1921)

Washington, February 7.—Leaders in the senate are eager for the restoration of that body to the good graces of the public. They want to get back for themselves the prestige and leadership which left them and went to the White House, partly as a necessary incident of the war, partly because of fifteen years of big and aggressive personality in the White House in the persons of Wilson and Roosevelt. This wish is close to the senate's heart, and frequently in private conversations, speaking impersonally and unselfishly, they are able to make an appealing argument from a public point of view why this should happen.

But the disposition of the senate to take advantage of its impersonality and anonymity, its proneness to procrastination in the plain sight of the public, its tendency to dispose of popular measures not by decision but by inaction, are illustrated by the course of a typical bill in the present session.

When the session began there were two projects which had some degree of popular pressure behind them. One was the relief of business by revival of the War Finance Corporation; the other was immigration. The popular demand for restriction of immigration met with prompt and effective response on the part of the house. In that body the immigration restriction measure was introduced on the opening day, December 6, was debated on the 9th and 10th, was amended on the 11th, and passed on the 13th—all within exactly one week.

Measure Popular

The vote on the bill showed how popular the measure was, how little and how specialized the opposition was. Less than one out of ten of the membership of the House opposed it. The next day the bill went to the senate. And in the senate it still remains more than eight weeks later. The day it arrived in the senate one senator evidently had some concern about imputations of bad faith to his fellows. Senator King of Utah said: "I have seen the statement in a number of newspapers that in all probability nothing further would be done with this legislation. I do not know where this information came from. Conceding accuracy generally to the press, I am inclined to think that in this matter an error has been fallen into. I desire to say there is no disposition to delay the passage of legislation at this session dealing with immigration. I believe that some legislation should be enacted before we adjourn. I sincerely hope the committee will immediately consider the question."

But the committee did not "immediately consider the question," for exactly three weeks the committee did nothing. On January 4 they began to hold hearings. On occasional days, ten days in all, strung over a period of three weeks, the committee or fragments of the committee, listened to witnesses. Practically all the witnesses were interested in promoting immigration and defeating the bill. There were two government officials who spoke as experts on immigration statistics and one or two others were disinterested. An almost equally small number of volunteer witnesses spoke in favor of the bill.

The great bulk of the hearings consisted of testimony from special interests, either racial or business, who opposed the bill strenuously. No thoughtful American, equipped with the knowledge of the background, can read the stenographic report of these hearings without being deeply and somberly concerned.

However, this is not the place for an analysis of the testimony, nor for discussing the merits of the bill. What is here attempted to make clear is the inaction of the senate contrasted with the speed and effectiveness that are not found impossible by the lower house, with a membership more than four times as large. I have said the house debated the bill, amended it, and passed it, all within seven days. The senate has had it more than eight weeks and has not yet even debated it.

The bill is still in that state of suspended animation described as being "in the committee." Even if the bill should come out now, it is so late in the session that it can hardly pass. Meantime, on March 4, the war time regulation expires which gives this country the small safeguard of requiring that passports of emigrants leaving Europe for America be vised by our consuls.

Any one with the faintest opportunity for knowing the state of the public mind on this question will understand how strong must be the popular resentment against the senate for killing the effort to restrict immigration and for killing it not by voting frankly on it but by secret processes of inaction. I suspect the proportions in which the public divides on this question are about the same as was revealed in the vote in the house, where less than one member in ten opposed it.

The deplorable racial antagonisms which are among the plainest and most regrettable phenomena in contemporary American life will be intensified by the character of the senate's action, whereas this public feeling might have been deprived of some of its bitterness by frank discussion on the part of the senate and a decision supported by facts and arrived at through open voting.

THINGS TO KNOW IN THE WINTERTIME

THE FINGERBOARD GOLDENROD

(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

The Compass Goldenrod pointing toward the North

"Oh, Mother Carey! All Mother! Lover of us little plants as well as the big trees! Listen to us little slender Goldenrods!"

We want to be famous, Mother Carey, but our stems are so little, and our gold is so small, that we cannot count in the great golden show of autumn, for that is the glory of our tall cousins. They do not need us, and they do not want us. Won't you give us a little job all our own, our very own, for we long to be doing something?"

Then Mother Carey smiled softly and sweetly and said: "Little slender Goldenrods, I am going to give you something to do that will win you great honor among all who understand. In the thick woods the moss on the trunk shows the north side; when the tree is alone and in the open, the north side is a bed of them that grew out in full sunlight. You is the north" they keep on singing, all summer long, and even when winter comes to kill the plant and end its bloom, the brave little stalk stands up there, in snow to its waist, bravely pointing out the north to those who have learned its secret. And not only in the winter storms, but I have found them still on guard after the battle, when the snow melted in the springtime.

"This then do, little slender Goldenrods, face the noon sun, and as you stand, throw back your heads proudly, for you are in service now. Throw back your heads till your golden plumes are pointing backward to the north—so shall you have an honorable calling and travelers will be glad that I have made you a finger-board on the plains."

So the slender Goldenrod and his brother rejoiced, and they stood up straight, facing the noon sun, and bent backward, throwing out their chests, till their golden caps and plumes were pointed to the north.

And many a traveler on cloudy days and dark nights has been cheered by the sight of the compass Goldenrod, pointing to the north and helping him to get home.

This does not mean that every one of them points to the north all the time. They do their best, but there are always some a little wrong. Yet you can tell the direction at night or on dark days if you look at

RANDOM NOTES

SOCIAL : PERSONAL MENTION : CLUBS

Excerpts from a Christmas letter written by Miss Lina Willis, engaged in Y. W. C. A. work in China, to her mother, Mrs. Carrie E. Willis, gives an entertaining idea of the way Christmas was celebrated at her headquarters, as well as a personal glimpse, and will be read with much interest by her many Washington friends.

Miss Willis says in part:

This household decorated our house Christmas eve and hung our stockings into which all kinds of crazy things were put. Xmas morning we assembled about 9 a. m. sang some Xmas hymns, presented the servants with our offering and then dug into our stockings and boxes. Miss Job and Miss Venable had both received their things and the others at least a part so we were all busy. Miss Job had an enormous box from the Detroit Association which supports her and it had beautiful things in it—if every missionary fared half so well he was fortunate. I am afraid the old time barrel is passed. We had enough fruit, nuts and candy to start a grocery store it certainly did not look much like a day on which you had presumably done without because of the famine. We had all put that money we might have spent for each other into the famine fund.

We had a big time and did not get to breakfast until ten. I had had cocoa and toast in bed about eight, however, as I had made a wild howl over not having breakfast before the packages. After breakfast we called on the family at 206 and then went for a walk in the park. It was a beautiful day, just like October. At tea time we entertained six little sailor lads from the New Orleans which is still stationed here and at six-thirty we, Chinese and foreign secretaries (about 45 came), had dinner together at 206. After dinner we played games for short time then we had a candle lighting pageant effect—sang our Christmas carols had Christmas stories. It was a beautiful party. Altogether the day was so busy that no little girl had time to be homesick, had she been so inclined.

On an early December boat I received one U. S. A. Xmas card—so I feel

Thursday night we went to the Community Chorus concert, some 250 Chinese men and women in the chorus and giving a Christmas program. There were four foreigners who took some solo parts—one being Mr. Keen head of the nanking Language School, another from the Y. M. at nanking and two women, who live here. However they were a minor interest compared to the chorus. It was thrilling, not any more because the singing was so well done than because of the significance of that many young Chinese giving a Christmas program and in English. Another interesting thing about it was that the major part of the audience and it was a large one, was Chinese. The program concluded with a hymn to China.

Our party was in very good surroundings as Mr. C. T. Wang and his family sat immediately in front of us. This morning we got Miss Coppock and Miss Klatt (new secretary, came over on Asia with me) off to Foochow and tomorrow we return to the regular trail.

We have a new table boy and he insists on discarding with me at length even though I insist in my best English that I do not understand a word he says. It's surprising how many of them can get a little English.

February the ninth, Ash Wednesday the beginning of Lent, will be observed by Episcopal and Catholic with special services as a forerunner of the 40 days of particular devotion and abstinence from worldly pleasures in preparation for the festival of Easter, which this year comes March 27.

In larger cities, where the churches observing Lent have larger representation, social events, except small affairs or clubs are eliminated from the social calendar.

There is usually less attention given to the observance of the Lenten season in smaller towns, but the idea of a period of rest and quiet appeals to many members of other churches, whose creed does not provide for Lenten mediation, and Lent is becoming more and more generally observed.

The twentieth anniversary of the founding of the "Standard Bearers Society of Grace Methodist Church" was celebrated Saturday afternoon at the church, twenty-one members gathering together for an interesting program, and an informal little party afterwards. There were a few new members.

Amelia Pensyl was program leader, Marjorie Sparks played a pretty piano solo, and Jane Stewart told the story of the lesson chapter a very pleasing manner. A short business session followed.

Clara Cushman a missionary founded this Society, and it was only fitting that the party of Saturday afternoon should be a "Clara Cushman tea."

A valentine contest afforded much pleasure and there were a number of entertaining readings given by Janet Goodfellow of Columbus, who with her mother were guests of Mrs. Jess Feagans for the week end. Mrs. Goodfellow and little daughter also added a few vocal selections.

A birthday cake with twenty red candles adorned the tea table.

Mrs. Feagan and Mrs. Harry Roeder were in charge of the afternoon's party.

The dance, which Jimmie Dice's "Pepsters" announced for Thursday night February tenth at the K. of P. Hall has been postponed until Friday night, February twenty-fifth.

The weekly Tuesday noon luncheon at the Y. W. C. A. is drawing more guests each week and affording a pleasurable social hour, as well as a deliciously cooked and appetizing luncheon. Each week the menu is attractively varied.

Dr. and Mrs. S. E. Boggs left Sunday for an indefinite stay at French Lick Springs, Ind., for the benefit of Dr. Boggs' health.

Washington friends will learn with much interest of the birth of a second son to Mr. and Mrs. John Zollinger (nee Edith Kerr) at Piqua, Ohio, on the fourth. The baby has been named John Kerr.

FINAL CLEAN-UP
FOR WAR RELIEF

Fayette County Falls in Line And Will Stage Final Efforts This Week.

The final clean-up drive in the Hoover European Relief fund collection in Ohio opened Monday, according to announcement from State Chairman William Eugene Jones.

With total collections approaching $1,500,000 and nine counties already reporting their quotas over subscribed, Chairman Jones has called on all county chairmen to begin an intensive effort to push the campaign to a successful conclusion.

In proportion to population, Miami is Ohio's hanner county, having contributed $25,000, which is more than three times the county quota.

Hamilton County went over the top last week, with a community chest guarantee of the full amount necessary to make up the quota of $272,000. Athens, Lake, Coshocton, Vinton, Clinton Fairfield and Morrow counties have also subscribed their full quotas.

Fayette county has fallen in line with this last week of effort and its forces are being organized for the purpose of filling the quota of $13,000 by next Saturday.

Chairman D. S. Crile and other officers of the Relief Committee feel confident that the remaining half of quota which must be raised will be in the hands of Treasurer M. E. Hitecock when the campaign draws to a close, if everyone responds promptly to the great call of humanity.

OPPOSITION TO DEMMIE MEETING VOICED BY FLOOD

Says White Should Remain
Chairman of The National Committee.

Issues Will be Made Up By Solons Says Flood

(By Associated Press)
Washington, February 7. — Opposition to the request of the 49 members of the Democratic National Committee for a meeting of the full committee at St. Louis, March 1st, was expressed by Representative Flood, of Virginia, chairman of the Democratic Congressional Committee.

"The issues in the campaigns of 1922 and 1924," said Mr. Flood, "will be made by the Democrats in the Senate and House. I have noted the reference of Mr. Love (Committeeman from Texas who made public the request of the 49 last night) to Chairman White, and the latter's desire to be relieved of the burden and responsibility of the chairmanship. I have known for some time of this feeling on the part of Mr. White, but I also know that he is not the man to run away from or shirk responsibility so long as he can render service to the entire Democratic party, which service he can render now by remaining chairman."

PROMPT ACTION IS NECESSARY TO SECURE ARMORY

Prompt action is necessary on the part of those who wish to become members of the new National Guard Company in this city, if the company is organized in time to be in line for the next state armory awarded, and for this reason every young man in the city or county above 18 years of age, who wishes to become associated with the company is urged to enroll at once at the Fayette Auto Club office on South Main street.

It is pointed out that all citizens who wish the company and the armory can help by impressing the benefits to be derived upon those who are of proper age to join. A personal effort from leading citizens will greatly stimulate recruiting.

Without a company there will be no armory—this is the situation in brief. While the list of applicants is increasing slowly, it is believed that it should be completed within a short time, and immediate action is being urged, so there will be no unnecessary delay.

Surrounding towns having guard companies are Greenfield, London, Blanchester, Cardington and numerous others.

sometime Thursday.

Mrs. Sears died Thursday evening
in Los Angeles, Calif.

The body is accompanied by the husband and the father and mother,
Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Reid, of Jeffersonville.

STEAL CHICKENS HEAVILY FINED BY MAYOR DAHL

George Cave and Howard Jett, facing a charge of stealing chickens from Samuel Sollars, residing on the Snow Hill pike some four miles from this city Monday morning were each fined $100 and costs and stand committed to the Columbus workhouse until the fine is paid.

The two young men had stolen chickens and disposed of them at the Brownell Packing House, where their actions aroused suspicion that the sixteen fowls had been stolen.

The two were turned over to the police and it was not long before it had been ascertained that the chickens were stolen from Mr. Sollars. Mr. Sollars later appeared and filed an affidavit against the two men, with the result that they pleaded guilty and were given heavy fines.

FIRST SECTION OF BIG TOURNEY HELD SATURDAY

New Vienna and McArthur Qualify to Take Part in Class A Tournament

In the first round of the South-Central Ohio basketball tournament held by McClain High of Greenfield New Vienna and McArthur qualified Saturday for the final tournament on February 13th and 14th.

The first section of the big tourney was as hard fought as the finals will be when Class A teams get together. In the opening encounter New Vienna took Handen's measure.

Martinsville and Jackson Township staged one of the greatest battles ever played in any tournament at Greenfield. When time was up the score was tied 16 to 16. Five minutes over time was allowed. When this time was up the score was 17 to 17. Another five minutes was agreed upon and Martinsville won by one free throw, 18 to 17.

Waverly disposed of Peebles and McArthur eliminated Lynchburg.

In the finals Saturday night New Vienna was matched with Martinsville and defeated this plucky aggregation 14 to 4. McArthur disposed of Waverly.

Every team in the tournament had large bands of rooters present and McClain gymnasium was filled. Interest was high and competition between the teams was of the keenest. F. R. Harris, Principal of McClain High, who manages the tournaments, was well pleased with the first section.

Ten teams meet next Saturday in the second section elimination.

Final week of the free Golmar offer

One pound of Golmar Free for 5 empty cartons presented not later than Saturday, February 12.

GOLMAR is made especially for the most particular users of creamery butter. Those who have tried the famous Golmar test say they cannot tell Golmar from the finest and freshest creamery butter.

It looks like creamery butter when on the table, spreads like it, tastes like it. The texture is the same, and it is equally good on bread, toast, corn, meats—on all cold and hot foods.

Every day Golmar comes fresh from the churns and stays fresh amply long enough for a small family to use a pound.

Golmar is as delicious as creamery butter—just as digestible, just as high in food value. Yet it does not contain a trace of animal fat. Nothing but the cleanest, purest cream of the coconut—selected and treated in the exclusive Golmar way under the direction of experts who have had twenty years' experience.

Golmar doesn't cost as much as creamery butter, because it is less expensive to grow coconuts than to feed cows.

But nothing is finer than Golmar.

Golmar is guaranteed. Your money back if it does not satisfy.

MRS. SYLVIA FOSTER, of Buffalo, N. Y., who says she wishes she could go into every home and tell how Tanlac completely restored her health after she had lost all hope of ever being well again.

"They had given up all hope of my ever being well again but thanks to Tanlac I am feeling as well now as I ever felt in my life and I only wish I had time to go to every home and tell every sick person about this grand medicine."

"A year ago last January I had a severe attack of influenza which left me in a terribly weakened condition and my appetite was so poor that I ate little more than enough to keep body and soul together."

"My heart palpitated so dreadfully at times that it seemed like it had stopped altogether and I would think my time had come. I was so weak that I couldn't go up the steps without holding to the railing. It was impossible for me to do any housework. I was so nervous that I couldn't drink my tea or coffee without spilling it. My sleep was restless and broken and I would have smothering spells and would just have to get up and go to the windows so I could breathe."

"I finally started taking Tanlac on the advice of a friend and before I had finished taking the second bottle my neighbors could tell I was improving right along. Well, it has only taken five bottles to restore my health completely. My appetite is just splendid now my nerves are strong and steady, my housework is a real pleasure and I can sleep like a child at night. In fact, I never felt better in my life than I do now."

The above remarkable statement was made by Mrs. Sylvia Foster, of 296 S. Division St., Buffalo, N. Y., a well known and highly respected resident of that city.

Tanlac is sold in Washington by C. S. Haver, in Lowell by Mason's Drug Store, in Jeffersonville by J. B. Davis, in Octa by J. W. Murphy and in Mill-edgeville, E. L. Ford Sons, Lee Ortman Selden.—Advt.

BROTHERS DIE IN SAME HOUR

Two Small Sons Of Thomas Calhoun Victims Of Spasmodic Croup Almost Simultaneously.

Two deaths in the same family within twenty minutes occurred Sunday afternoon when the two small sons of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Calhoun died at their home on East Rawling street.

The elder of the two, William, aged nine, died at 1:30 o'clock and twenty minutes later Zedie, aged eight years, passed away.

The attending physician stated that their deaths were due to spasmodic croup.

It is said that Saturday afternoon the two children played in the rain and their clothes were soaking wet. They became sick during the night and Sunday morning at eight o'clock a doctor was summoned. He found the boys in a very serious condition.

When the children became worse at ten o'clock the physician was again called and their condition was improved slightly. Before the doctor could arrive when he was called the third time one of the boys had died and the other was in such condition that there was no hope.

Double funeral services will be held at the home Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock and burial will be made in the Washington cemetery.
